

Paint and Sip with

Amanda Kritzberg

How it Works

1. You decide how many people you want to include and I take care of selling the tickets (I charge $30 per person per class, which covers the class fee plus all of the supplies needed for the class).

2. Do you want to have people pay for a glass of wine beforehand or just purchase what they like when they arrive? We can discuss what works best for you. For example, I can charge $45 for the class, and say that includes a glass of wine. I can then pay you the additional $15 per person per ticket. This method is nice because it ensures that each guest is purchasing at least one glass of wine from your winery.

3. We can collaborate on an idea for the painting that the class will do together! We can do a wine-themed painting, a floral painting like the one above, or anything else you might like. Or I can just choose something fun for you!

4. People arrive the day of the class, check-in, and have fun painting and sipping! Classes generally run for two hours. If the class hasn't sold out online beforehand we can take walk-ins the day of.
